There are a few things that you need to ask a potential contractor before you hire them to make sure that you are hiring the best one:

About the Products

- What kind of refinishing paints do they use?
- What color choices do they offer?
- Do they have any warranties?

What to Expect

- How many workers will be available during the job?
- How long will it take?
- Do they use subcontractors, and if so, have they done background checks on them?

Their Background

- How long have they been resurfacing bathtubs?
- How many similar projects do they typically complete each month?

Verification of Credentials

- Are they licensed and insured?
- Ask for pictures of the contractor's previous work.
- Check their references to gauge other customers' level of satisfaction.
